Footlights

Ages: 6-9 years

This class is for children who are just starting their elementary school careers. While Footlights mirrors the same fun and creativity as the Groundling class, in Footlight, the children are taken through a variety of exercises that hone in on important theatre skills such as courage, availability, imagination, and presence. It is a wonderful tool to help your child find themselves among their young peers. (6 wks)

Imagination Auditions

NEW!

Ages: 7-10 years

Watch your child step out of the shadows and into the footlights in this non-performance based class that uses training techniques found in the finest acting academies in the world. Games, songs and no-pressure positive reinforcement helps your little actor shake off the nerves and gain the confidence to stand proud and speak out loud! We will be focusing this session on auditioning in both the Theater and the world of commercial acting. Your child will learn all the basics of auditioning, and parents will gain real knowledge of the business from seasoned child commercial actress, Megan Morris. We subscribe to the post-Stanislawski method of acting, which is the belief that no actor, no matter how talented, can "create" without the help of their inner child's imagination. The best acting schools in the country use this time-honored method to bring OUT the inner child in adult actors. Mere Players uses the same technique for children, to hone their natural ability to pretend, imagine and well, act! You will be amazed as your child confidence soars and memory skills blossom. Creativity and confidence is the key to success in so many areas. Help your kids grab it now and hold on to it for a lifetime! Parents expect to stay for the first class, and then bring Grandma and a camera to our no pressure showing at the end of the session. (6 wks)
