A Touch of Etiquette

In today's rush-rush world, all children can use a few lessons on manners and etiquette. These classes are perfect to teach youngsters all about proper dining etiquette, how to make a good first impression, giving proper introductions and handshakes, and more. For more information, go to www.touchofetiquette.com.

Etiquette: Manners 101 for Scouts

Ages: All Girl/Boy Scout Troops

Boy and Girl Scouts can earn their Manners badge! We'll learn about both dining and social graces, including introductions, conversations, proper table setting, and technique. This is a private class that can be customized to meet the needs of the troop and will be scheduled with you individually. To select specific topics, please see our website www.touchofetiquette.com. Instructor: Lauren Brynjelsen, a Touch of Etiquette.

Social Grace

Ages: Grades K-8 (see below)

Give your son or daughter a gift that will last a lifetime – good manners. Increasing your children's social etiquette will help them build self-confidence that will promote success throughout life. Manners do truly matter, but unfortunately in today's era, they are often lacking. Through this interactive course, children will learn why etiquette matters and skills including introductions and handshakes; conversation; what makes a good listener; manners at home and school; and telephone/Internet etiquette. Includes A Touch of Etiquette reference manual and workbook to take home. (Min/Max: 5/20). Instructor: Lauren Brynjelsen, A Touch of Etiquette.

Dining Dynamics

Ages: Grades K-8 (see below)

There's nothing more embarrassing than making etiquette mistakes at a formal or business dinner. Teach your children at a young age how to avoid these mistakes; the knowledge will last them a lifetime. We'll cover a history and introduction to dining, as well as skills including formal and informal table settings (silverware, napkins, etc.); European vs. American-style dining; the proper way to eat different courses; de-stressing mealtime moments; eating difficult foods; and dining hints and tips. Includes A Touch of Etiquette reference manual and workbook to take home. (Min/Max: 5/20). Instructor: Lauren Brynjelsen, a Touch of Etiquette.
